

What I enjoy about nature...

I took this photo at the foot of Lincoln Avenue on a foggy morning in April 2, 2011. A sign of spring is the fog over the bay because the water is colder than the air so it's forming fog. What caught my attention was the bright red of the bush. I learned that the name of the bush is Red Osier Dogwood because it turns red in the spring. This is my sign of spring in Erie, PA.
