

What I enjoy about nature...

These are some reasons I like to be outside. I get to see pretty insects like butterflies with unusual designs on their wings. Other insects I like to see are ants. I like to watch them carry their babies. I also like to hear peepers because they help me go to sleep. I also like spring because birds sing beautiful songs and I like them. For example, the Redwing Blackbird has a funny and extraordinary song. He wiggles his tail when he calls. The last reason I like spring is because flowers smell good. For example I like roses because they are pretty and smell sweet. They remind me of cherry ice cream. These are some of the reasons I like to be outside.
