

What I enjoy about nature...

There are many reasons why I love to explore the outdoors and enjoy nature. I love nature because when you go outside the first thing you hear are the birds. You can also see bees, other insects, flowers, plants. You can also see a whole lot of colors. In my backyard I can see really green grass. I can see trees with buds on them too! When I take walks, I see colorful wildflowers. I can see snakes. I can hear bees, sometimes owls. One time I smelled skunk cabbage. Sometimes I see maple trees giving sap for maple syrup. This year I saw the ice melting on the peninsula and geese swimming on the bay. I also saw the bee on the beautiful yellow flower. That was shy I love to explore the outdoors and enjoy the nature.

Breanna: age 9